

ROGER NEILL
COMPOSER

With a professional career spanning 15 years, composer Roger Neill has written music for over 20 feature films and hundreds of network television episodes. Perhaps best known for his eleven seasons scoring the Fox television series King of the Hill, his numerous other television credits include Chicago Hope, Michael Hayes, and The Simple Life.

Highlights of Neill's film-scoring career include his distinguished work on Sofia Coppola's kaleidoscopic Marie-Antoinette, and the documentary feature The Killer Within with his score performed by the renowned Kronos String Quartet.

A Southern California native, he earned a Bachelor of Music degree at USC, and a PhD in music composition from Harvard University.

Neill is the recipient of many ASCAP and BMI award, and an LA Weekly Theater Critics Award, which honored his operetta The Beastly Bombing with Musical of the Year, 2007.
